

TRIBUTE PAID
MAINE HEROESFINAL CHAPTER OF TRAGEDY IS WRITTEN BY NATION.Bodies of Sixty-Seven Unidentified
Dead Resurrected From Havana
Harbor Consigned to Graves in Arlington Cemetery.

Washington, March 23.—The American nation today wrote the final chapter of the tragedy of the old battleship Maine, and paid its tribute to the heroes who were sacrificed on the altar of patriotism, 44 years ago. With a wealth of sentiment, the bodies of sixty-seven unidentified dead resurrected from the harbor of Havana were consigned by a reverent republic to the sacred soil of Arlington National cemetery to be mingled with the dust of the country's battle dead. President Taft and his cabinet, both houses of congress and all the other officials of the government set aside the day and did homage to the dead.

Before the services at the grave, a solemn service was held on the south front of the state, war and navy building. This was attended by the president and by other officials and members of congress.

One by one the army gun caissons bearing the bones of the dead, in thirty-four caskets, rolled up to the plot in the cemetery and the president and every one in his party and the great crowd uncovered.

From across the open caissons of upturned earth came the dirges from the marine band. A field of flowers upon the new turned sod told of the reverence in which the dead were held.

Many Thronged Streets.

Thousands thronged the streets of the national capital when the funeral cortege made its solemn way through the streets. They uncovered their heads when the coffins came and so remained until the processions had passed. An enormous throng had gathered at the south front of the state, war and navy building when the procession reached there. The coffins had been removed from the scout cruiser Birmingham at the navy yard at noon amid much ceremony. Through crowd lined streets they were escorted to the scene of the first ceremonial. Hushed silence paid its tribute throughout the progress of two miles.

President Taft occupied a chair in the center of the esplanade, on his right the Cuban minister sat throughout the services, an interested auditor. On his left was Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigbee, who was captain of the old Maine, and Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, who was executive officer of the ill fated ship. Both bowed their heads when Father Chadwick, chaplain of the old Maine, recounted the scenes that attend the destruction of the vessel. Eyes were wet with tears.

Chadwick Recounted Scenes.

"For the aid of a number of the people and the advancement and glory of our own country," he said, "these heroes gave up their lives, this sacrifice that we see before us was made. Today we thank God we sent soldiers not with vengeance in their hearts but with the feeling of humanity and justice, to right the wrong."

"We have placed no responsibility for the tragedy and thank God for that we wish everything good for the nation with which we are now at peace and whose property we desire. Nevertheless, the ship was an altar and the men who perished, a sacrifice."

President Speaks.

A sharp patter of hail began to fall when President Taft, barred headed, walked to the front of the platform, he did not try to shield himself from the storm and waived aside the proffer of an umbrella. The great crowd of citizens hedged in by the military heard him in respectful silence.

When the president had concluded the Right Rev. W. V. Anderson pronounced the benediction, the artillerymen on their horses saluting. The crowd was uncovered. This ended the exercises in the city.

The long line of cavalry, artillery infantry, seamen and marines marched the six miles from Washington to the Virginia burying ground, to the strains of dirges and slow time funeral marches. Along the way a silence more impressive than cheers greeted them.

One by one the coffins were lifted by reverent hands from the gun carriages and borne to the open graves on the Potomac.

Old Anchor of Ship.

In the center of the waiting graves stood the old anchor of the Maine.

"U. S. S. Maine, blown up February 15, 1898. Here lie the remains of 163 men of the Maine's crew, brought from Havana, Cuba, and reinterred at Arlington, December 23, 1899."

The bones of the unidentified heroes today were consigned to earth with those whose names were known. As each casket was lowered into the reach one of the "jacksies" who bore it remained at the head of the grave with the star spangled union jack in his hands, its trailing end covering the coffin beneath. As the grave after grave received its dead the squadron of silent sentinels increased, eventually the entire plot was studded with soldiers standing bareheaded in the rain.

Read Service For Dead.

When the last casket had been lowered and the flowers, almost knee deep beside the graves, had been arranged, Chaplain Bayard read the Episcopal service for the dead. He was followed by Maurice Sum-

ROOSEVELT IN STATE OF MAINERECEIVED A WARM WELCOME
IN PORTLAND.Most Direct Criticism Yet Levelled at President Taft—Speaker's Platform Collapsed, But Nobody Injured.

Portland, Me., March 23.—The most direct criticism yet levelled at President Taft by his predecessor in office was contained in a speech delivered to night by Col. Roosevelt. The colonel spent twelve hours in Portland and received a cordial welcome. He was the chief guest at a luncheon and a dinner, shook hands steadily for four hours in the afternoon, attended a conference of Maine politicians and to night spoke for an hour before a crowd which filled the armory auditorium. Col. Roosevelt repeated the statement which he made in his New York speech on Wednesday night that President Taft had declared in favor of a government "by a representative part of the people."

"In its actual working," he said, "the president's scheme would be a government of the people for people by the bosses."

The collapse of the speaker's platform in the auditorium created some excitement, although Col. Roosevelt was uninjured, the platform, which was elevated about three feet from the floor was occupied by about thirty persons. As Col. Roosevelt ascended it on entering the hall it gave way with a crash. The middle portion sank to the floor.

Col. Roosevelt stepped quickly to the front of the structure, which did not give way and waved his hand at the crowd to show that he was uninjured.

MURDERER CAUGHT

Had Lived in Attic of Father's House for Two Years.

Edwardsville, Ill., March 23.—George Goehl, under indictment on the charge of killing Tom Dellamano May 29, 1910, was arrested to day in the attic of his parents' home in Collinsville. He had lived in the attic for almost two years.

The police, working on a rumor that Goehl was at his father's home, searched the house for two hours before they found his hiding place. It was found accidentally when the officers removed a table cover which had prevented them from seeing an opening in the wall. Goehl, after his arrest said he crawled through the opening and between the partitions to his hiding place and at times had been in the attic for more than a month without leaving it.

IOWA CONVENTIONS.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 23.—Senator Cummins' adherents obtained for his presidential candidacy the delegates of Winneshiek county in the Republican convention held to day. Osceola county sent a Progressive delegation to the state convention and a stand pat delegation to the congressional convention. Montgomery county delegates sent an instructed delegation divided between Clark, Woodrow Wilson and Judson Harmon, while the Democrats of Johnson county elected an instructed delegation, but endorsed the candidacy of Speaker Clark.

CLARK SUPPORTERS.

Iowa City, Iowa, March 23.—Democratic National Committeeman Wade to day took the first steps for active support of Speaker Champ Clark for the presidential nomination, when he introduced a resolution of endorsement at the Johnson county Democratic convention. The resolution was adopted unanimously after a test vote showed that the Clark followers controlled the convention 87 to 82.

LEAGUE COMPLETED.

Chicago, March 23.—Completion of the United States baseball league was announced here today by W. C. Nissen, who said that Chicago had been given the place in the league which was under consideration by New York. Inability to secure a park in New York, Mr. Nissen gave the place to Chicago. The first Chicago game is scheduled to be played the latter part of April at the North Side ball park.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST SUICIDES.

Galesburg, Ill., March 23.—Mrs. Frank Yates, formerly a reader in the Christian Science church, who has been ill, committed suicide to day by drinking poison. She was 50 years old.

nions, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish war veterans, who paid a high tribute to the loyalty and sacrifice of the dead. Three members of the order then came forward and took up their stations beside the open graves, the first cast upon the coffin a spray of evergreen emblematic of the undying love a country owes to its defenders and the comrades for their memory. The second veteran placed upon the casket a white rose which he declared was indicative of the life hereafter of those who died in defense of the aid. The third placed a small United States flag beside the other symbols. The bands played a dirge as a squad of soldiers fired a salute and a navy bugler sounded the melancholy "taps," then followed a national salute from the guns of the fort and the ceremonies were ended.

HITCHCOCK AND
BRYAN DISAGREESENATOR DENIES HARMON IS WALL STREET MAN.Contents Bryan Makes That Assertion Whenever He Is Opposed to Man—Reply Made by Bryan.

Washington, March 23.—Commenting upon Mr. Bryan's opposition to Governor Harmon, Senator Hitchcock said to day "the assertion made by Mr. Bryan that Harmon has the support of Wall street is utterly without proof or foundation so far as I know. Whenever Mr. Bryan is opposed to a man he first assumes and then asserts that Wall street is for that man. Certainly Wall street has no reason to be for Harmon, as governor of Ohio. Harmon has shifted their million dollars of taxes a year off the people onto the railroads, which are largely owned by Wall street interests."

Bryan's Reply.

Lincoln, Neb., March 23.—When questioned to night as to whether Mr. Bryan wished to make reply to the statement regarding the position taken by Governor Harmon's presidential candidacy, the following was given out at Fairview:

"No man ought to speak for the Democracy of Nebraska unless he can carry the spirit of will as the letter of instructions. If the Democracy of Nebraska favors Mr. Harmon it ought to be represented by delegates who can support him not only conscientiously, but with enthusiasm. Mr. Bryan cannot support him in the convention under any conditions. Mr. Hitchcock is endeavoring to prevent any co-operation between two progressive candidates, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Clark, with a view to securing not a majority but a plurality for Mr. Harmon and if he can do this he will go to Baltimore and ally himself with the plutocratic influences that are attempting to force Mr. Harmon upon the party."

WAS DEAN OF COLLEGE.

Man Whose Dead Body Was Found a Prominent Educator.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 23.—According to John Shafer of this city, George C. Douglas, a farmer, whose body was found near Pequot, Minn., to day, formerly was dean of a college at the University of Iowa and was supposed to have been wealthy. Douglas' death, according to Shafer, broke down and he went to South Dakota from Iowa, where he became a teacher on the Rose Bud reservation at Valentine and afterward Indian agent there. Later he removed to Piquet, where he homesteaded.

William Pierson formerly of Minneapolis is in jail at Brainerd, Minn., charged with the murder of Douglas.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT.

Chicago, March 23.—Porter E. Stover, son of the founder of the Stover Manufacturing company of Freeport, Ill., was named as defendant to day by Grace E. Lewis, who charged breach of promise.

This is the second time that Stover has been made defendant in suit filed by Miss Lewis. The first suit was filed about a year ago at Freeport, but Stover is said to have gone to Central America before service was made on him.

TRAIN LEE TRACK.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 23.—At least seventeen persons were injured five of them seriously, late this afternoon, when passenger train No. 113, on the Charleston branch of the Burlington railroad left the tracks and turned over at Crosby, Mo., ten miles north of St. Joseph. According to railroad officials a derail track was loosened owing to soft roadbed and was thrown down under the train as it prepared to take a siding for another passenger train.

Felts and several other detectives. Edwards is being taken for safe keeping to the Roanoke jail, where his uncle, Floyd Allen, his cousin Victor Allen and his chum, Byrd Marion, are being held pending trial. He was lodged in a farmhouse for the night and is being guarded by the detectives. They will continue to Roanoke tomorrow.

THREE MORE LOCATED

Capture of Part of Allen Clan Expected Within a Short Time.

Mount Airy, N. C., March 23.—Three more members of the Allen clan—Claude, Fred Allen, son of Jasper, and Wesley Edwards, the more desperate of the two Edwards boys—have been located by the detectives in the mountains ten miles north of Mount Airy and their capture to night or early Sunday morning is practically certain. It is predicted they will not be taken without bloodshed.

KLAUS THE WINNER

Pittsburg Fighter Outrighted and Outwrestled Jack Dillon of Indianapolis.

San Francisco, March 23.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburg "barcat" outrighted, outwrestled and nearly out-fought Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis middle-weight, in their fight here this afternoon as a result of which he was proclaimed the winner by Referee Jack Welsh after twenty rounds of the fiercest milling witnessed in a local arena in recent years. An eleven-hour rally on the part of Klaus enabled him to leave the ring with Dillon's figuratively hanging from his belt, his determined stand in the final round, during which he landed fearful stomach punches without return, contributing all that was needed to determine a winner.

The battle from start to finish was contested with the men going at it hammer and tongs, each with head and shoulders resting against the other. They wrestled, elbowed, butted and backfisted, the referee warning them time and again that they were inviting disqualification. Dillon clearly showed his superiority at boxing. He frequently staggered Klaus with sharp right hooks to the jaw but the latter showed himself capable of absorbing the blows and never at any stage appeared to be in distress. Klaus all the time drove his right and left to the body and it was this systematic peppering of the Hoosier fighter's stomach that gradually wore the latter down and paved the way to ultimate success.

RIVER STILL RISING

Danger of Flood at St. Louis Lessened by Fall in Temperature—Little Damage So Far.

St. Louis, Mo., March 23.—The Mississippi river, at St. Louis, rose slightly to day and to night the gauge read 23.8 feet and a half foot rise in twelve hours. The danger of a flood here at the present time has been lessened by a fall in temperature. Reports to the weather bureau showed the river, from Hannibal to the mouth of the Illinois river fell gradually. The Illinois river below Peoria, rose slightly and the Missouri river, below Kansas City and the Mississippi below the mouth of the Illinois rose gradually.

The cold weather decreased materially the flow from streams tributary to the larger rivers. At Cairo the gauge stood at 46.8 feet to night. A stage of 49 feet is predicted because of the flood in the Ohio river. Little damage is being done by the overflow of the water near Cairo in Kentucky and Illinois.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Young Girl Used Gasoline to Start a Fire.

Carbondale, Ill., March 23.—Miss Anna Randleman of Lick Creek, Ill., a student at the Southern Illinois Normal school, was burned to death last night. She mistook gasoline for kerosene in starting a fire.

FOUND WITH LEGS CUT OFF.

Elgin, Ill., March 23.—James Rose, who called himself "a man without a home," was found with legs cut off lying beside the Chicago & Northwestern railway to day, near the town of Marengo.

Two hours previous he made a futile house to house canvass in Marengo attempting to get sufficient money for the amputation of an infected leg. Surgeons said that Rose would die. He is 54 years old.

LA FOLLETTE'S FIGHT.

Washington, March 23.—Senator La Follette, according to an announcement from his headquarters to day, will leave Washington soon after April 1st, and tour Oregon and Nebraska for a fight for the delegates to be elected at primaries in the two states April 19.

NEGRO LYNCHEED.

Fort Smith, Ark., March 23.—A mob broke into the city jail here to night, seized an unidentified negro who had previously shot and probably fatally wounded deputy Constable Andrew Harris. The negro was dragged through the most prominent business street in town to the front of a hotel and hanged to a telephone pole. Five hundred men were in the mob.

BOTH CLAIM INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—With Taft and Roosevelt supporters claiming a slight lead in the number of delegates chosen today to the Republican state convention here next Tuesday, indications are that there will be a spirited fight in the naming of four delegates at large to the national convention and two electors.

The Mission Study circle of the Congregational church will hold a market at Rayhill's store, April 6.

BATTLE RESULT
VENTS DEFINITE INFORMA-TION.Federal Officers Reiterate Government Victory, but No Details Given Out—Rebel General Arrested and 200 of His Men Disarmed.

Mexico City, March 23.—Strict censorship of news regarding the battle near Escalon Monday between Chihuahua and Torreón yesterday left the result in doubt to night. Federal officers reiterated the story of a government victory, but from no source were details obtainable.

A dispatch from Torreón over the censored wires purported to confirm the route of the rebels, though their number was estimated at from 200 to 300 instead of 1800 as stated in government advices. According to this account of the battle the rebels attacked a repair train commanded by Lieut. Col. Nader. A battalion of infantry and a company of sappers came to the rescue and stood off the rebels for an hour until reinforcements from the command of General Telles arrived.

The rebels were said to have stubbornly resisted the aggressive movements of the combined forces for two hours and then fled northward, leaving 18 dead on the field and a number of wounded. From one of the prisoners it was learned that General Orozco was at Santa Rosalia with 1400 men. He had two machine guns. The rebel forces engaged in the battle was commanded by Jose Inez Salazar. The command came by train from Santa Rosalia to meet the advance of the federals. Later Emilio Campa with a small force joined the rebels.

Rebel General Arrested.

Chihuahua, March 23.—General Antonio Rojas of the revolutionary forces, was placed under arrest to day by General Pascual Orozco, the commander in chief, and 200 of Rojas' men were disarmed and their rifles given to men whose loyalty is not questioned.

The remaining 500 men of the Rojas detachment were sent south to reinforce Generals Campa and Salazar, who are in momentary expectation of attack at Escalon—Rojas is the man who when in command of the rebel general at Juarez looted the branch of the Mexican bank of 17,000 pesos. This action was criticised harshly by his brother officers and Rojas was ordered with his command to Chihuahua.

He soon returned to Juarez, but on Thursday again took his men to Chihuahua.

It is said that his arrest was due to insubordination in declining to obey Orozco's orders.

Two messengers from Ojinaga arrived here to day and informed Orozco that Jose de la Cruz Sanchez commanding 200 federals at Ojinaga had decided to cast his fortunes with the revolution.

Light skirmishing marked the day at the front between the outposts of the opposing forces in the neighborhood of Ceballos, which is about 20 miles south of the insurrecto main force at Escalon.

WILSON INVADERS WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, March 23.—Governor Woodrow Wilson invaded Wisconsin to day in connection with his campaign for the presidential nomination and for delegates from Wisconsin to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore. He delivered one address in Fond du Lac this afternoon and two in Milwaukee to night.

He was greeted by large audiences in both places.

GOVERNOR SILENT.

Chicago, March 23.—Governor Deen tonight would not indicate what action he would take regarding the possible calling of a special session of the legislature to enact a presidential preference primary law. Eighty-nine members of the lower house are pledged to a bill if the extraordinary session is called.

DENIES HE ACCEPTED MONEY.

Santa Fe, March 23.—"You can send me to jail, the penitentiary, put me out of the house, but you cannot make me tell what did not happen; no one said me money."

That was the answer Julian Trujillo, member of the New Mexico legislature, made when accused of accepting a bribe.

He was the first witness for the defense, before the bribery investigation committee and throughout his testimony continued to deny the acceptance of money.

DROPPED DEAD.

Galesburg, Ill., March 23.—Alderman T. J. Knight, vice president of the People's Savings bank and one of Galesburg's wealthiest men, dropped dead at a railroad station to night while buying a ticket for a western trip.

REBATES FINED.

Cleveland, March 23.—The six dock companies and four railroads indicted by the federal grand jury here last April for rebating, pleaded guilty before Judge Killins in the federal court here to day and were assessed fines aggregating $120,000.

The funeral services of Mrs. Elizabeth Winchester will be held from the residence of J. Marshall Miller, 760 West North street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. L. H. Davis will be in charge, with burial in Diamond Grove cemetery.

MEETS WITH FAVOR.

Property Owners Believe Straightening of Mauvasterre Creek Would Bring Many Benefits.

A number of farmers who own land which lies within the proposed Mauvasterre creek drainage district were in the city Saturday discussing the proposition. Quite a number have already signed the petition which is in the hands of E. E. Crabtree and the indications are that the project will succeed with little or no opposition. Property owners are persuaded that the deepening and straightening of the creek would, along with other benefits, give them relief from the sewage of Jacksonville which now goes into the creek. There would be sufficient current in the creek to carry the matter along and it would disintegrate and disappear the sooner. Judging by the existing plans along Indian Creek, where the drainage district was recently established, the benefits from the lessening or abolishing of overflows would come immediately after the completion of the work. When the Mauvasterre was out of its banks last week Indian Creek was flowing peacefully along two-thirds full. Already it has been proposed and with sound reasoning to extend the Mauvasterre district to the river instead of to the Morgan county line.

TO HOLD REUNION.

Survivors of the Battle of Shiloh
Will Hold Banquet

Survivors of the battle of Shiloh who reside in Jacksonville and vicinity are planning to hold a reunion next month, April 6 and 7 being the anniversary of the battle, one of the hardest fought engagements of the civil war. Among those in Jacksonville who fought in that battle are Capt. Alex Smith, E. S. Martin, J. Z. Smith, Major C. E. McDougall and J. R. Kirkman. It is the intention of these men to hunt up every survivor of that struggle and to hold a reunion and banquet, which will rightly honor the 50th anniversary of the event.

COAL QUESTION IS UNSETTLEDWILL REMAIN SO UNTIL AFTER
TUESDAY.When Operators and Miners Reassemble They Will Face Some Demands That Were Voted Down at Indianapolis.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—Whether the 450,000 United Coal miners of the United States will suit work and cause the mines to be shut down probably will not be decided earlier than few days before April 1, when the present wage agreements expire. Officials of the miners' union today decided to take no action on the wage dispute of the anthracite miners until after the differences of the bituminous coal miners have brought about either a settlement or a disagreement. This means that the coal situation will remain unsettled until after Tuesday the operators assert that the increased pay asked for by the miners, would augment the mines' payrolls more than $600,000 a week at the minimum.

On Tuesday the operators and miners of the bituminous fields of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will resume their conference to prevent a suspension.

Every one of the men who has been rejected when the men re-assembled they will face the same demands that were voted down in Indianapolis two months ago. Several days probably will be taken up to determine whether they can agree. If the bituminous miners and operators decide they cannot agree, then, according to John P. White, president of the union, the executive board's recommendations as to both the anthracite and the bituminous situations will be alike. He says a suspension of all the mines necessarily will follow, pending a vote of the miners on the question of a strike.

KNOX HONORED.

Caracas, March 23.—The entire capital was to day given over to honoring Secretary Knox. Shops were closed and business was practically suspended by government decree. The program was so arranged that at every place visited one of the ministers received the American secretary. An escort of cavalry proceeded from place to place with the party but no guard attended the secretary. Last night the Plaza Bolivar was lit with electric lights. The explosion of fire works was deafening, and rivaled the old American celebration of Fourth of July. Dense crowds surged in the streets following the Knox party arrival. The demonstrations were unprecedented. Every member of the party was attended by an official. Special horse races have been arranged for Sunday.

INCREASE WEIGHT QUICKLY.

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

Cover & Shreve's customers have told them of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, and they are so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that they are selling it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You who are thin and in poor health can not afford to let another day pass without getting a box of Samose on those terms.

It avoids the unsightly spot on front of neck.

TAFT DESERVES RENOMINATION

"I am a Roosevelt man, but this time I am for Taft" is the way a known Republican expressed himself the other day when asked for his views on the presidential contest in the Republican party. This answer might be termed somewhat paradoxical or be classed with "side stepping," but in reality this man expressed the feeling of a great many Republicans who have admired the spirit and courage of Mr. Roosevelt through the years, but have honest convictions now that President Taft is justly entitled to another term.

Several weeks ago there were indications that the Roosevelt boom might sweep the country and carry everything before it, but with the passage of days and the calm of consideration, has come a certain revulsion of feeling. The sober judgment of men is taking the place of opinions based on mere feeling and that judgment is leading them toward the support of Taft for a second term.

It would be foolish to maintain that President Taft has not made some mistakes during his administration and he would be the last to make such a claim. But no one can read his published utterances with care or listen to any of his speeches without being convinced of the strength and sincerity of the man. Taft has honestly tried to be a friend to the people. He has not played to the galleries in the way that many leaders have done in voicing his sentiments as the people's friend, but a study of his administration will prove that he has stood for and worked for such measures as he believed would bring protection and relief to the average citizen in daily life. Such a measure was Canadian reciprocity. The president realized the opposition he would create in some quarters by advocating the reciprocity relations, but from a long study of the subject he believed that reciprocity would eventually result in a reduction of the high cost of living.

The president's attitude on the tariff while it has not added to his popularity with many people is deserving of commendation. He has insisted on scientific tariff revision, not the hit and miss kind, made to placate or please a faction here or a faction there. Scientific revision is the only kind that can bring permanent benefit or relief to the country as a whole, but the preaching of this doctrine doesn't add to a man's general popularity.

Just plain ordinary fairness demands the renomination of Taft. No one can deny his statesmanship, the breadth of his judgment, the scope of his vision, the honesty of his motives, the strength of his character. He has striven consistently to carry out the pledges of the platform on which he was elected to office. He is not spectacular in his methods. He does not act under impulse. He has sometimes been accused of inactivity and sluggishness, but a closer inspection of his acts will emphasize the fact that President Taft follows the principle of "be sure you are right, then go ahead." Long judicial experience has given him training for weighing his every act before performing and what some critics are pleased to call dilatory methods are really methods which though they progress slowly, reach right results. Fairness demands the return of Taft because he has been a constructive, progressive, conscientious official and any thing but renomination at the hands of the party means a repudiation of his record. No Republican president since 1860 has been refused renomination save President Hayes alone.

BAD DAYS NOW BUT WORSE IN 1877

C. C. Capps Calls to Mind Big Snow Storm of Thirty Years Ago.

In conversation Saturday C. C. Capps said he well remembered the same day thirty-five years ago, the winter of 1877. The date was impressed in his memory because his first son, Percy Capps, was born that night and from the added fact that a heavy snow fell, to a depth of several feet on the level. In many places the drifts covered the fences clear over. Naturally as it was so late in March the warm days soon came and the snow went off with a rush, resulting in badly swollen streams. When you are thinking to day how bad the weather is, just be comforted by remembering that conditions were worse in 1877.

Looking back in the Journal files last night the following items were found in the issue of March 25, 1877:

More beautiful than we have any use for.

This weather is some. Will it be summer soon?

The back bone of winter has stiffened up amazingly.

The rain and sleet of Friday became a steady snow about sundown and the fall continued throughout the entire night and up to 1 o'clock yesterday, giving us by far the biggest snow of this remarkable season. This is gymnastic weather—the backward spring.

MRS. BERGSCHNEIDER CALLED TO REWARD

Highly Respected and Long Time
Resident Dies at Home in This City—Husband Preceded Her in Death Six Weeks Ago.

Mrs. Magdalena Bergschneider, wife of the late Henry B. Bergschneider, who died Feb. 4, passed away at 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning at her home on South Main street. For some time she has been a sufferer from heart trouble, and since the death of her husband she has declined rapidly. A few days ago bronchitis and pneumonia developed and this added to her other affliction hastened her death. With her going, Morgan county has lost one of its best women—one who with her husband has contributed much to the county's wealth in true noble citizenship, and has left a family of children, who follow closely in the footsteps of their Christian parents and who rise up to call them blessed. Mrs. Bergschneider was a loving and devoted wife and mother. Through the long and serious illness of her husband, she patiently and lovingly attended his bedside, and when he was called to the brighter land she seemed to realize that her end was near and that she soon should meet him yonder. The same love she showed toward her children, her grandchildren and all who were near and dear to her. One of the most joyful occasions in the life of Mr. and Mrs. Bergschneider was the celebration of their golden wedding two years ago, when the children and grandchildren gathered at the old home to spend the day with grandma and grandpa. The children enjoyed the day as much as Mr. and Mrs. Bergschneider for they were tenderly devoted to them and regarded with admiration and veneration their splendid qualities of parenthood.

The deceased was in every sense a Christian woman. She not only believed but practiced the teachings of Christ and many there are who will bear testimony to her deeds of kindness and of her thoughtfulness of others. She was a faithful member of the Church of Our Savior. Magdalena Reichler was born in Westphalen, Germany, July 22, 1842, and came to this country with her parents when 7 years of age, settling first in the state of Ohio. A few years later the family moved to Illinois and settled at New Berlin. Here she met her husband, who was also a native of Germany, coming to America to seek his fortune. They were married Feb. 15, 1860, in the old Catholic church on North Main street, which stood on the present site of the Snyder ice plant. To this union were born eleven children, the following of whom survive: Joseph, Theodore and Mrs. Felix Shanley of Franklin, Anthony of Pisgah, Stephen and Mrs. Fred Degen and Miss Catherine at home, Jacksonville, and Henry Bergschneider. She is also survived by thirteen grandchildren. Three children preceded the mother in death. They were Mrs. Joseph Ludwig and Misses Minnie and Mae.

Mrs. Bergschneider was the last survivor of her own family, and besides her children, the nearest relatives living are three cousins, Mrs. Catherine Goodman and Mrs. S. Gebhart of New Berlin and Fred Fair of Lincoln.

The surviving children and relatives will have the united sympathy of their wide circle of friends in this hour of their bereavement.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from the Church of Our Savior. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

The guest list included Misses Mary Masters, Ethel Wylder, Mrs. Isaac Powers, Mrs. S. D. Masters, Miss Helen Phelps, Mrs. Arthur Masters, Miss Lucie Harris, Messrs. F. A. Norris, Richard Rowe, Arthur Masters, George Orear, Marcy Osborne, Walter Wherle.

Miss Helen Phelps entertained for Miss Mary Masters Saturday afternoon at her home on West College avenue. Bridge whist was played and the afternoon spent in a delightful social manner. Palatable refreshments were served.

Miss Irene Thompson entertained a few friends informally at a dinner party Saturday at Peacock Inn, in honor of Miss Margaret Brown, who is visiting for a few days in the city with relatives and friends.

DR. DINSMORE TELLS OF SANTO DOMINGO

He Sees Great Possibilities in Development of Island—Speaks of Copper Mining Industry.

That there are great possibilities for the industrial and educational development of Santo Domingo and that the island will in time become a great center for American industry is the opinion of Dr. George Dinsmore, who has just returned from a year's stay on the island. Dr. Dinsmore has been superintending work for the Blanton Copper Mining syndicate, which has extensive interests in that country, and his work brought him into close touch with the natives and also with the industrial life of the island. A part of the doctor's work for the syndicate was to see to the health of those employed.

The Blanton syndicate at present is tunnelling through the mining district in order to determine the quality and quantity of the ore and the work is being done entirely by the natives, no machinery yet being introduced. There are from 30 to 60 men employed and about 2,000 feet of tunnelling has been done since the syndicate began work there. The outlook at present is very encouraging and it is believed that the copper industry will become one of the greatest in Santo Domingo. Art Masters of this city has interests in the Blanton syndicate. Just recently a San Francisco company began to install a hydraulic plant for the washing of gold and this will be ready June 1. All the public works on the island are being installed and operated by American engineers and Dr. Dinsmore says that the American interests are becoming bigger and better each year. The island now is at peace and safe politically and the developing period has set in. Sugar, coffee, tobacco and cocoa industries are perhaps the most extensive.

Santo Domingo is interesting not only on account of its industrial possibilities, but also on account of the history connected with it. It must be remembered that it is one of the oldest countries in the world, being the island on which Christopher Columbus landed. The natives to day point to a knotty old tree on the bank of the Ozama river, to which the great explorer hitched his caravel when he landed. A large statue of Columbus stands in the public plaza and the inhabitants have wreaths upon it and in other ways do homage to Saint Christopher.

Dr. Dinsmore left Santo Domingo on his homeward trip March 6 and landed in New York city March 19. He traveled on the Algonquin, a West Indies steamer.

MURDER TRIAL TO BEGIN MONDAY

Joseph Seidel and Mrs. Hunning Must Answer For Killing of Husband of Latter.

St. Louis, Mo., March 23.—The trial of Mrs. Annie Hunning and Joseph Seidel, for the alleged murder of Martin Hunning, Mrs. Hunning's husband, the night of December 9 last, at his home near the town of Murphy, a short distance south of St. Louis, is docketed for trial next Monday in the Jefferson county circuit court at Hillsboro. It is reported that the defense will move for a change of venue on the ground that it would be impossible to secure an impartial jury in the county in which the alleged murder occurred.

All of the principals in the case were well known residents of Jefferson county and as a consequence the killing of Hunning and the arrest of his widow and Seidel, her alleged lover, attracted wide attention.

According to the Jefferson county authorities, Seidel made a complete confession of his part in the alleged murder soon after he was lodged in jail. He is said to have admitted that he and Mrs. Hunning planned the murder for six weeks before he found a suitable opportunity to slay Hunning. Mrs. Hunning, according to Seidel's confession, told him that if he would do away with Martin Hunning she would marry him and give him all that she and her husband possessed.

The alleged confession of Seidel, as given out by the Jefferson county authorities, reads in part as follows:

"On the night of December 9, 1911, at about 7 o'clock, I left my home carrying my shotgun. I walked down the road to Martin Hunning's house—I went in the yard and first looked in at the east window. Martin was seated in a rocking chair near the window of the kitchen and his wife, Annie Hunning, was near him at the telephone. While I was looking in at the east window Mrs. Annie Hunning left the telephone and Martin, her husband, went to the telephone. I then walked around to the corner of the house to the south window. I saw Martin Hunning standing at the telephone with the receiver to his ear and his back to me. I raised the gun to my shoulder, cocking it as I raised it, took deliberate aim at his head and pulled the trigger. The gun was discharged. I heard the crash of glass and then turned and walked away to my home."

After convincing Mrs. Hunning that Seidel had confessed, the officials are said to have procured the following confession from her:

"I am innocent of the crime, but ole is not. I went to St. Louis several months ago and saw a fortune teller. She told me my husband was going to be killed. I told Seidel of what had been told to me and told him I was afraid Martin would kill him and me. Seidel told me he would not take any chances on it, but that he would put Martin out of the way. As we were eating dinner together on the day of the killing, in our house, Joe Seidel told my husband, his brother, Louis Hunning, and myself, that his parents were going to St. Louis that day. I knew then that he was preparing to kill my husband, and I felt uneasy and was afraid he would kill my husband that night."

Counsel for the defense declare they will oppose the introduction of the alleged confessions when the trial is called Monday on the ground they were obtained under duress and by trickery. Mrs. Hunning and Seidel, according to their lawyers, now declare they were caged to desperation by the county authorities and signed papers placed before them to gain respite. The claim is now made that they thought they were signing merely confessions of having had intimate relations. The Jefferson county authorities, on the other hand, aver the confessions were made voluntarily and that the prisoners were fully aware of the contents of the statements they signed.

As before stated a change of venue is likely to be asked for because the case has been given so much publicity in Jefferson county, through two coroner's inquests and a preliminary hearing, and the alleged confessions.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hunning and Seidel emphatically deny the reports that they intend to enter pleas of guilty for their clients. Nevertheless, the opinion prevails in Jefferson county that, failing to obtain a change of venue, the attorneys for the defense will endeavor to make the best terms they can with the prosecuting attorney on a plea of guilty.

BOSTON'S NEW SUBWAY OPENED.

Boston, Mass., March 23.—The new subway system for the handling of heavy passenger traffic between Boston and Cambridge was formally opened today. J., March 25.—Governor Woodrow Wilson has consented to open the annual meeting of the New Jersey Conference of Churches and Clergy at the Woman's club here tomorrow afternoon with an address on "Education for Citizenship." I'm fooled a good deal oftener than there is any excuse for; but you couldn't laugh; so are you.

What we get is not satisfactory; it's only the best we can do.

Many people, when they say "Thank you," say it in a way which indicates that they really want to say, "What next?"

A good film gives you the best head, sometimes, and at best is liable to render you discontented; but a good reputation works for you at night.

When you do a man a favor, don't let him see you are not enjoying it, even if you feel that way.

Plenty of people will give you the devil, but you wouldn't keep him.

When a doctor says he thinks you have come thing disagreeable, but can not fully decide without further investigation, it usually develops that you have it all right.

Many people do hope when they should get busy, and throw up their hands.

Those who have dined with the president, been abroad, or killed a bear, talk too much about it.

Going back to a place you've run away from, is very humiliating.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—The real contest for control of the Republican national convention at Chicago next June is about to begin in earnest. Thus far very few delegates have been selected from territory where the Republican party is a legitimate factor in elections. But during the coming week there will be primaries or conventions in widely separated sections of the country where there is a real Republican party and where the election of delegates counts for something substantial.

Chief interest will center in the primaries in New York state for the selection of district delegates to the national convention and also delegates to the state convention which in turn will name the delegates-at-large to the Chicago gathering. In Indiana the Republicans will hold their state convention to name delegates-at-large. A number of the district conventions in the same state also will be held during the week. In Colorado the state convention will be held for the selection of delegates-at-large. The results in these three states should aid the politicians materially in drawing a line on the relative strength of the Taft and Roosevelt candidacies. Other conventions of the week, of lesser importance, will include the state convention in Mississippi and the territorial convention in Alaska.

Prominent manufacturers and business men of Philadelphia are making arrangements for a mass meeting in that city Saturday night, with President Taft as the principal speaker. The president will be in Philadelphia on that day to attend the dinner of the Ohio society.

At a hearing to be held before Secretary of War Simpson in Washington on Wednesday a distinguished delegation from Canada will be heard in opposition to the application of the Chicago Drainage Commission to increase the flow of the Chicago drainage canal. Canadian objections are based on the fact that the works will lower the levels of the Great Lakes, and also, that the withdrawal of the water will lower the temperature of Lake Michigan in such a way as to affect cultivation along its shores.

A conference between representatives of the Canadian and West Indian governments, looking toward freer commercial intercourse between Canada and the islands, will begin in Ottawa Wednesday. The conference will be watched with keen interest by the manufacturers of the United States, as a resumption of free trade with the West Indies might naturally be expected to interfere seriously with American exports to the islands.

The Provincial elections in British Columbia will take place Thursday. Railway extensions and a policy of exclusion of Orientals are the chief planks of the platform on which Premier McBride expects to be returned to power. The Liberals are advocating free homesteads to bona fide settlers, government operation of coal mines, government-owned grain elevators and telephones, abolition of the poll tax, the creation of a Provincial labor department, and the complete removal of the liquor traffic from government control.

FANNY CROSBY 92ND BIRTHDAY.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 23.—Fanny Crosby, writer of gospel hymns which are known the world over, will be 92 years old tomorrow. She lives with a niece in this city, at whose home her birthday anniversary is to be fittingly recognized. Miss Crosby, whose full name is Francis Jane Crosby Van Alstyne, has been totally blind ever since she was six months old. She has written more than 3,000 hymns in all. She was married in 1875 to Alexander Van Alstyne, who died ten years ago. He was a musician and set some of his wife's best known verses to music.

THE WAR FIFTY YEARS AGO

By H. M. Pratt.
In Virginia Enquirer.

Our stay at Rossville, Ga., until May 2, 1864, was utilized in drilling the recruits and in other ways forming them into soldiers. Such as, when one of them inquired where he could get his washing done, or a barber shop, to send him to some headquarters, telling him "that was what the flag was for," and "that the man on guard would take his soiled clothes." I know of a few instances, but they were not many so green as that. Yet we hear a great deal about it in "old soldiers' stories."

It was remarkable how quick the new men caught on, and in a few weeks they were as proficient as we who had been in as many months. Grand guard duty was required very extensively. More for purposes of discipline, than to protect the camp.

Grand guard is a chain guard around the entire camp, each soldier patrolling his "beat," the length of which is governed by conditions, the sentinel relieved every two hours from the out post, which is relieved station, which is relieved every four hours from the guard station, which is relieved every twenty-four hours, usually, by a detail from all the regiments in camp.

Grand mounting is one of the most beautiful military exercises. Grand guard, an excellent means for both officers and men of the different commands to form acquaintance and cement the whole mass, (as it were) into one common unit.

While I am on the subject of guarding the camp I will endeavor to correct an erroneous impression that the price of "sleeping on guard" is death. If the experience of all non-coms, tally with mine, in my several years as corporal or sergeant of the guard I have awakened many men and never reported one.

It is a nice subject for poets, as spring does not last the year around. I suppose poets and near poets may as well grieve over that as anything until they emerge from embryo stage. But I think the great mass of soldiers of experience will agree that the armies of the rebellion would never have been crushed had all who were awakened from "sleep on guard" been executed and more than one ink-well would have been dipped dry by writing "A Lincoln" for a reliever.

While in this camp our commander instructed, a "non-commissioned officer's drill," usually sixty men or more.

It was the nicest exhibition of the kind I ever saw, officers from the army were attracted and congratulated the number of men they killed or wounded as from the horrible manner in which they mutilated the victims.

The great mass of the army love to hear their own "cannon boom." A commander would do well to let his "dogs bark" though he knew they could reach their game.

AN INTERESTING RELIC.
A. C. Barnes of Manchester brought, yesterday, to the Journal office a dollar bill 102 years old. It was issued in Granville, Ohio, a beautiful place situated not far from the center of the Buckeye state and in its early days largely inhabited by Quaker people.

The bill is so old and frail that Mr. Barnes had it backed by a piece of pasteboard and over it placed a piece of glass so that only the face of the bill is visible. Though so old the bill is well preserved and the signature of the president is quite legible, but that of the secretary is too faded to be seen. The bill is the regulation size and has, in the upper left and lower right hand corners, respectively, a capital D and in the upper right and lower left hand corners, respectively, a large figure one.

At the left hand is the word one in large letters and at the opposite end the word Ohio. Near each of upper corners is a large figure one in a circle. In the center of the upper half is an eagle with outspread wings and, in the middle of the lower half in a circle, is an eagle standing on the national coat of arms and about the circle are the words:

In the body of the bill are the words in script
"Alexandrian society of Granville."

"The president and directors of the Alexandrian society promise to pay the bearer one dollar at their bank in Granville, Ohio." The bill is dated 1810, and Alexander Holmes is the president. Naturally, Mr. Barnes prizes the bill very highly.

He says it was brought from Granville by his mother, then Miss Sarah McLaughlin, over 70 years ago, when when the trip had to be made in wagonish wagons.

RETURN FROM SOUTH.
Mrs. E. W. Crawford and Mrs. Walter A. Crawford and son have arrived home from the south and strong "flu" report that when they were out of Louisville, Ky., a flu on one of the wheels of the engine broke. The train had a large number of sleepers and a big passenger list and the accident took place on a high grade but fortunately the engineer discovered the trouble and stopped the train in a hurry so that no wheels left the track, though the train was delayed several hours.

the open, or attack them in the confusion of retreat, neither of which succeeded until after we reached Atlanta, and Gen. Hood succeeded Gen. Johnson in command of the Confederates.

The country is very rough, ranges of small mountains with sides almost precipitous, small narrow valleys or gorges, in fact a land well suited for "wars desolation" and nothing else.

When flanked out of our position we found them in less than a day well prepared for us, behind well constructed breastworks with good "abatis" in front, and a man to be seen or heard for that matter unless we came within range of their guns. We developed their strength with a skirmish line, advancing as close as they would permit, often too close for good health, then at night, or under some natural cover, as woods or hills, build our works weakening our lines till an army corps and thousands of men or more could be spared to maneuver against their communications, when they would abandon that position for one farther back.

The lines were often so close we could converse without the use of a megaphone, but were careful to keep behind our works or some friendly rock or tree, and the soldier who was not an expert usually got a pass to the rear, being conveyed on a stretch or if not able to walk.

We had little in common to talk about.

About this date we gave our enemies a new name; they had been called Confeds, Rebels, Gray-Backs, Butter-nuts, etc., but by general use, they were christened "Johnnie-Reds," usually shortened to "Johnnie." From the apparent sympathy of England, we called the southern states the "little brother of 'Bull'."

I would like to say something about the artillery branch of our army, as an infantryman "a little dough-boy" I had small opportunity to learn of that noise, but useful arm, and what I did know I learned from the musket and then from the breech.

They were feared not so much for the number of men they killed or wounded as from the horrible manner in which they mutilated the victims.

CAUSE FOR ALARM.
Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating a Symptom That Should Not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Jacksonville who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them.

We honestly believe them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, adding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and thus to promote perfect nutrition, and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Lee P. Alcott.

R. P. Heck will spend Sunday in Mercedosa visiting relatives.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 409 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

there is always a prolonged period of decidedly disagreeable weather which certainly makes one feel that the best way to avoid a long sick spell is to go to some other climate. ## GOOD HEALTH

How To Keep It

How To Get It Back

In this column we will discuss Health and Disease and questions of general interest will be answered by responsible members of the regular medical profession. Those not proper for publication will be answered by mail if accompanied by addressed and stamped envelope, provided they do not relate to a disease from which the patient is then suffering. For such diagnosis and advice as to treatment consult your family physician.

Health, the Greatest Asset of the

A study of history will show us that the decay and downfall of many of the powerful nations of the past were largely due to the impaired health of their subjects; hence, it is the patriotic duty of every citizen to do what he can to promote the general health of the people.

Every year in the United States, the death loss from known preventable diseases is far greater than the loss from all causes in both armies during any one year of the civil war. From knowledge obtained by the experience of the past and the advancement of medical science, it is known that a great many of the causes of invalidism and death are easily prevented. Thus, it is of vast importance to maintain the health of the people of the nation.

The essentials to health are plenty of fresh air at all times, of which there is an abundance; pure water which should be free from organic matter as well as the germs of disease, should be taken freely and a proper amount of plain, wholesome, nutritious food. The body should be kept clean and properly clothed; rest and exercise should be sufficient. Avoid stimulants and all excesses. When in doubt regarding health matters, consult your physician who is giving his life to this work.

Change Doctors.
No. 1 asks how he can change doctors without giving unnecessary offense to the one he is now employing.

Answer—All such matters in the medical profession are governed by certain principles of ethics which in fact are nothing more than the application of the ordinary rules of justice. A patient has a perfect right to change doctors at any time and if he will pursue the following plan the physician discharged can have no just cause of complaint against either the patient or the doctor who succeeds him:

First—Tell the doctor in attendance frankly that you desire to change physicians.

Second—Pay or otherwise settle your account with the first doctor to his satisfaction.

Third—Select another physician, tell him that the first attendant has been settled with and discharged.

Do not select the new doctor until the one in attendance has been settled with and discharged.

Do not let any doctor talk or frighten you into a change in order to get a case for himself.

Will Fresh Air Cure Tuberculosis?
No. 2 asks will fresh air alone cure tuberculosis?

The answer is certainly, no, for if it would whole herds of cattle and flocks would not become infected while living always in the fields and pastures. Tuberculosis is only cured by improving the whole physical condition. To accomplish this, wholesome and nutritious food, physical rest and properly regulated exercise, freedom from care and worry and close attention to the proper action of the skin, kidneys and bowels are as important as fresh air which to do its best should be accompanied by sunshine. No one of these things will succeed if others are neglected. All are required for the proper treatment of a patient suffering from tuberculosis and if begun early enough will accomplish a cure.

Black Dust Urine.
Such a sediment is due to a falling out of solution in the urine, of uric acid and its salts, or to an over saturation of these salts, generally the latter.

The pure "black dust" sediment occurs as a rule, in concentrated urines that contain a considerably larger portion of waste from the body tissues in proportion to the amount of water given off and does not necessarily indicate kidney disease.

Foods rich in animal matter such as liver, brains, kidneys, etc., increase the amount of uric acid and are likely to give such a sediment.

In gout, high fever, acute arthritis, rheumatism and in leukemia a blood disease, increased elimination of uric acid occurs.

At this season of the year a great many people are, through the efforts of the "kidney medicine" vendors, led to believe that on account of turbid urine voided and kept in the cold they have kidney disease. Such is not the case. The pinkish or yellowish pink color is due to a precipitation or falling out of the salts of uric acid and the former cleanness can be restored by gently heating a portion of the urine and the fears of kidney disease can thus be dispelled, unless the patient actually has other real symptoms.

WAR ON THE PESTS

Legislation Favored That Will Save Farmers Money.

United States Continues Fight to Keep Out Dangerous Foreign Insects or Plant Diseases—Blame Nursery Stock.

Washington. The effort to procure national legislation to keep out new and dangerous insect pests or plant diseases which may be brought in with imported nursery stock is actively favored by the department of agriculture. A strong concerted effort is being made to array the nursery trade of this country against such legislation and put this important industry in the attitude of opposing reasonable legislation, which is as much for its own protection as it is for the protection of fruit and forest interests.

In view of the evident misunderstanding which is being broadly circulated in relation to the intent of the proposed act and of its probable manner of enforcement, and the groundless fear that the secretary of agriculture or his experts would take an unbecomingly attitude toward nurserymen, the department has made a statement which says in part:

Practically all the European powers have stringent plant inspection laws, and in the case of the United States absolutely prohibit the entry of nursery stock. Apples and other American fruits are admitted only when the most rigid examination shows freedom from insect infestation. Canada and other important British possessions have similar protective legislation.

The United States is the only great power without protection from the importation of insect infested or diseased plants, and thus becomes a sort of dumping ground for European refuse nursery and ornamental stock. This does not often apply to the importations of the larger and reputable importing firms, but does apply to the poorly packed, miscellaneous ornamental and other stock imported by department stores of large cities or that sent to this country to be sold under the hammer by auctioneers for whatever price may be obtained.

The immediate danger which led to the recent effort to procure legislation was the discovery, in 1909, of the abundant importation and wide distribution into the United States of nursery stock infested with brown-tail moth nests and occasional egg masses of the gypsy moth. During the years 1909 and 1910 such infested stock was carried into twenty-two states, covering the country from the Atlantic seaboard to the Rocky mountains. During the first of these years no less than 7,000 winter nests of the brown-tail moth, containing approximately 3,000,000 larvae, were found in shipments into New York state alone—seed material enough to infest the whole United States within a few years.

During the second of these years, 617 of these nests were found on nursery stock shipped into the state of Ohio, and a much larger number, approximately the same as the year previous, were again sent into New York. Smaller numbers of these nests, proportioned to the amount of nursery stock received, were sent into other states east of the Rocky mountains during both of these years.

Fewer brown-tail moth nests were received during the season just ended (1911), owing to the agitation in this country and more strict supervision by foreign governments. These winter nests are, however, still coming in and the danger is now perhaps even greater, for the reason that as infestation becomes more infrequent a laxity of examination is likely to result.

It is scarcely necessary to comment on the danger to this country from the careless introduction and wide distribution of gypsy and brown-tail moths. In a limited district in New England more than a million dollars a year has been spent for a long period in a mere effort to control these two insects, and the general government is now appropriating $300,000 annually to endeavor to clear them from the border of main highways and thus check their spread. These expenditures do not take into account the actual damage done, but they do serve as a measure of the danger to the whole country from the recent distribution of these two insects on imported nursery stock.

More than half of the important insect enemies and plant diseases now established in this country have been brought in on imported nursery stock, and new insect enemies and new diseases are being thus introduced every year. Twenty different insect pests, new to this country, some of them very formidable in the old world, have been intercepted in the inspections of the imported material by this department this year, and this does not include the introduction of brown-tail moth nests and other European pests with imported seedling stock.

A properly enforced quarantine and inspection law in the past would have excluded many, if not most, of the foreign insect enemies and plant diseases which are now levying an enormous annual tax amounting to several hundred million dollars on the products of the farms and orchards of this country.

In spite of the many pests which have already gained foothold and the control of which will be a permanent annual charge on production, there remain many other insect pests and plant diseases with equal capacity for harm which, fortunately, have not yet come to us, and it is to protect from these new dangers that legislation is now sought, not with the intention of prohibiting the trade in imported stock, but to throw most safeguards around it as will most protect both the importers and the subsequent purchasers of such stock.

The measure now before the congress differs radically from the one before the preceding congress. The chief point of difference is that inspection of imported nursery stock is left to the different states instead of being undertaken by the federal government.

MEMORIAL FOR ARLINGTON.

In his message to congress on the day of adjournment for the holidays, President Taft renewed his recommendations of last year that money be appropriated for a memorial amphitheater in Arlington cemetery "to be constructed on a plan already approved."

Four years ago the public buildings bill contained a provision for the appointment of a commission consisting of the secretary of war, the secretary of the treasury, the superintendent of the capitol buildings and grounds and one member of the Grand Army of the Republic which should "cause plans and estimates to be prepared for a memorial amphitheater at Arlington, Va."

The plans were prepared and approved. Nothing now seemingly necessary to complete the project except an appropriation from congress, which may not be forthcoming in a "year of economy" even though the president has reinforced one recommendation with another.

Plans and estimates prepared by a firm of New York architects were considered by the commission at a meeting in January, 1909, and it was the unanimous decision of the members to recommend their approval to congress, and that the sum of $750,000 be appropriated "to cover the cost of the building of the amphitheater, which in the judgment of the commission should be constructed of marble."

The architects in a letter accompanying the report of the commission give a description of the amphitheater as it will appear if completed in accordance with their views of the beauties and necessities in the case. They say "the amphitheater suggested by our drawings would seat comfortably about 5,000 and afford opportunity also for a large number to stand in the colonnade."

"Around the amphitheater is shown a large number of boxes possibly to be especially reserved for the families of distinguished guests or otherwise used, the stage itself being sufficiently large to hold several hundred people, so as to accommodate visiting delegations of special guests."

"The building covers an area of about 34,000 square feet, considerably over half of this being taken up by the amphitheater proper, while the colonnade itself has an area of about 8,000 square feet."

For years old soldiers have urged the construction of a memorial amphitheater in the National cemetery at Arlington. There has been opposition to the plan in some places, opposition that has not been based on consideration of the cost of the structure, but solely on the thought that buildings, even "noble marble" amphitheaters, open to the sky have no place in parks or in cemeteries.

There has been no open objection in congress, but several sessions have been allowed to go by without action. One day the amphitheater probably will find a place in Arlington. The sentiment back of the plan perhaps is too strong to be overcome; but Arlington, as it is, is a place of beauty which men who seem to know about such things who cannot be enhanced by the addition of any kind of a building.

Arlington cemetery is largely an open hardwood forest, with many oaks more than a century old and with fine elms, maples and lindens. It is possible before final action is taken in the matter of an appropriation that the whole question of the fitness of the thing will be discussed in congress.

SCHOOLS GAIN IN ATTENDANCE.

The highest average of school attendance in the history of the American school system was reached in the year 1909, according to statistics gathered by the United States bureau of education. Figures for 1910 are not yet available, but the opinion was expressed by Dr. F. B. Dresslar of the bureau that 1910 would show still better results.

Returns show, he declared, that the length of the school term was increased from 144 days in 1900 to 155 days in 1909, while in the same period the average number of days attended by each pupil rose from 99 to 113.

This means that more than half a month has been added to the average length of the school term, and in that particular alone educational effectiveness has been increased during the last decade about 8 per cent.

"In 1900, our figures show," Dr. Dresslar said, "that the average daily attendance in the public schools was 10,432,772, which was 68.6 per cent of the enrollment; in 1909, the average daily attendance reached 12,634,837, being 72.8 per cent of the number enrolled. These figures seem to warrant the conclusion that the children have attended the public schools more regularly the last decade than in any previous one of our educational history."

Uncle Sam Buys a Buick Motor

A model 28 Buick motor car was delivered to Colonel Spencer Crosby of the Department of War at Washington, to be used by the inspector of buildings and grounds on his daily trips.

The government invited all the leading manufacturers of cars priced from $900 to $2,000 to submit a car in competition to a committee of expert mechanical men. These cars were driven to the designated place and the drivers dismissed.

The examination was then made with no representative of any of the cars present. Motor for motor, shaft for shaft, bolt for bolt, the cars were compared, tested and appraised by the government experts. One by one the cars were eliminated until but one remained. It was the Buick.

Of the seventeen or eighteen cars submitted the Buick alone stood the rigid test of quality and construction, upon which the examination was based. This car was at once turned over to the government for immediate service.

URANIA CHARTER MEMBERS NIGHT

Splendid Photograph of W. D. Crowell, Charter Member, Received—Will Be Shown by Stereopticon Monday Night.

Noble Grand Carl Weber of Urania lodge, No. 243, I. O. O. F., has received several photographs from Brother W. D. Crowell of Tacoma, Wash., the only living charter member of the lodge and a long time resident of this city.

The large photograph was taken especially for the lodge and shows the venerable man wearing the 50-year jewel of the order, which has been his since 1907. The picture is pronounced by several of the older Odd Fellows to be an excellent likeness and will be framed and accorded a place of honor in the lodge room. The others show Mr. Crowell and his estimable wife in front of their home in Tacoma. The pictures have been copied on stereopticon slides and will be shown at the observance of "Charter Member's Night" Monday evening.

The entertainment committee has arranged for a very interesting program at this time which will include several unique musical features. The meeting will be in the nature of a home-coming and the older members of the order will be escorted to and from the lodge room in automobiles and carriages.

The initiatory degree will be conferred on a class of several candidates by the excellent staff of the lodge and refreshments will be served.

It is the intention of the committee having the arrangements in charge to conclude the entire program in ample time for everyone to make the last car at 11:45, so the older members especially will be able to enjoy all of the different features of the evening and yet not be kept out later than necessary.

GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss Rena Cheney was given a happy surprise Saturday evening by a number of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cheney of East Court street. The gathering was in the nature of a good-bye party as Rena expects to leave the first of next week in company with her aunt in Seattle, Wash. The surprise was complete in every way and Rena was indeed delighted to see all her associates. The evening was spent in a very pleasant manner by various amusing games and with music, and during the hour substantial refreshments were served. All left wishing her a happy time in the big western city.

Among those present were Misses Cornelia Gruenewalt, Gerna Hall, Hazel Busby, Marion De Pew, Peru McLaughlin, Hildreth Fanning, Ruth Clapp, Florence Anderson and Pearl Buchelt.

Mrs. L. C. Doyle and daughter were city shoppers yesterday from Rood-house.

BOYS ORGANIZED MILITARY COMPANY.

Henry Stevenson Belonged to Jacksonville Soldiers With Sol Smith Russell as Captain.

Talking about old military organizations in Jacksonville Henry S. Stevenson said recently that he well remembered the "boys' company" which was organized prior to the war. Sol Smith Russell was the captain of this company and Becher Glover was the first lieutenant and regular meetings and drills were held in a hall in the building on the west side of the square, now owned by Robert T. Cassell. The boys were 15 and 16 years of age when the company was formed and their organization acted as an escort when the first company of troops left Jacksonville to join the Union forces at Cairo. Later on some of these boys, among them Mr. Stevenson, himself, enlisted with the Union army and did valiant service for their country.

Sol Smith Russell remembered that military company through a great many years and whenever he met a Jacksonville man used to talk about the old days. After Russell had become famous as an actor Mr. Stevenson happened to be in Minneapolis and Russell heard of it and pressed him with invitations to come to his home for breakfast, dinner and supper and Mr. Stevenson accepted one of the invitations.

Possibly no man in Jacksonville knew Sol Smith Russell better than Capt. Taylor, for the latter traveled with him for two years. He says that Russell was one of the kindest and most considerate of men and that when the actor had achieved greatness and was one of the most popular of stage favorites that he still was simple and approachable.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

The following paragraph appeared in a recent issue of a Townner, N. D., paper. Mr. Colton was a member of the class of 1911.

"At a meeting of the school board this week J. H. Colton was offered the position of superintendent of the Townner public schools for the next school year and he accepted. Mr. Colton is a man thoroughly capable of the position and the choice meets with the general approval of all. He has been in charge of the manual training department this year, and will also continue his work in that department during his superintendency."

May 20 has been selected as the day for the May Day this year at Illinois college.

The students who are to present Twelfth Night, accompanied by Prof. and Mrs. J. G. Ames, have gone to St. Louis to see the play.

President Hammelkamp was in Chicago Friday and Saturday attending the meetings of the North Central Association of College and Preparatory schools.

Some fine photos have been ordered for the Modern Language department. Mrs. J. W. Graham, sister of Mr. Thomas Worthington, who is now in Europe, has been asked by the donors to make the purchase and it is expected that they will soon be placed in the room occupied by the French and German department.

Miss Stella Cole is spending Saturday and Sunday with friends at Millikin university.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

Mrs. E. C. Wolfers, of Hopkins, Mo., Mrs. L. M. Canfield, of Humeson, Iowa, and Mrs. J. L. Parks, of Versailles, Ill., have returned to their homes after several days visit at the college.

Mrs. A. J. Gernhart, of Mishawaka, Ind., is visiting her daughter, Lucille.

The sentiment at the Woman's college in regard to Woman's Suffrage is about equally divided. On Wednesday a vote was taken to see how many of the students and faculty favored woman's suffrage. The result of the vote was—139 for and 100 against. Quite a number did not vote. Interest in the question has been increased by debates in both societies and in a number of the English classes.

One of the delightful social events of the year was the party given by Miss Martha Weaver, the dean, in honor of the seniors. It was in the nature of a flower party. Each young woman who came was dressed to represent a flower. The prize was won by Miss Ruth Stimpson, of Eldorado, Kan., who was dressed to represent a sunflower.

The library has been remembered this week by Gene Stratton Towner, the nature lover, with one of her books and some views of Libbert Cabin, her home at Geneva, Ind.

Charles P. Lummis has also sent his little book, "My Friend Will," which one of his critics says has done more to help God's afflicted overcome their discouragements than any other one story.

Mr. Edward Wackerel has given us a copy of the World Almanac for 1912.

President Barker is in Chicago, attending a meeting of the North Central Association of Secondary schools. Only standard secondary schools are admitted to this association, and their work must be carefully examined by a committee appointed by the association. The Woman's College Academy has been a member of this association for several years and its work is recognized as being standard.

The Belles Lettres play, which is to be given Monday evening at 8 p. m., March 25, in Music hall, will be a most delightful affair. The five young women who are to take part in the cast are doing thorough work in preparation for this.

The recital given by Mr. William P. Phillips on Thursday night was fully up to the expectation of his friends. In spite of the fact that he has been suffering of a severe cold, his work that evening was without trace of any such trouble, and his rendition of the various difficult selections which appeared on the program were given with an ease which was highly gratifying to the large audience present.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

Mr. Munger is spending Saturday and Sunday in St. Louis, going down especially to hear the Southern-Marlboro performances at the Shubert theater.

The concert given by the faculty in Carrollton last Tuesday evening was most successful. Messrs. Kitch, Munger and Jensen and Miss Oilfield also gave a short program at the high school the morning after the concert.

RETURNS HOME TO DAY.

MR. THRAPP'S OPINION.

Rev. Russell P. Thrapp was always a leader in car local option fights. His campaign last November, Mr. Thrapp introduced me to address his congregation at the Christian church the last Sunday evening before the election, with these words:

"James H. Danskin, who will now speak to you, is chairman of the organization committee in this present campaign."

"Six men have done nine-tenths of the work in the local option contest have done as much as any other five men."

I feel that such words from the lips of Mr. Thrapp should give me some claim to the support of the voters as a candidate for state's attorney.

I am out of the county almost every day, Sundays included, engaged in anti-saloon work, and therefore am unable to make a personal canvass for votes.

I shall appreciate your support the same as if I could personally meet you.

James H. Danskin,
Candidate for State's Attorney on the Republican ticket.

TAFT'S RECORD IS PROGRESSIVE

His Achievements Entitle Him to Renomination.

HAS DONE MUCH FOR NATION

Read the Epitome of What Has Been Accomplished in Three Years—
No Administration Has Better Record.

According to the doctrine of the "square deal," if for no other reason, President William Howard Taft is entitled to a renomination at the hands of his party.

On the record of his achievements in the presidential chair, on the record of his accomplishments, on the record of his statesmanship, his constructive ability, his soundness of judgment, his broadmindedness and his fairness to all interests, he is entitled to a renomination and a re-election.

Read what follows and you will gain some faint idea of what President Taft has done in the three years that he has been in the White House:

He is a progressive in the fullest sense of the word. He is not an extremist. His administration has been pre-eminently progressive. His renomination and re-election will insure the continuance of the march of progressive legislation.

He has put his party and the nation on the right track in regard to tariff reform. A marked beginning in the process of the reduction and revision of the tariff, schedule by schedule, has been made by his creation of a non-partisan tariff board.

He has enforced the Sherman anti-trust law vigorously and fearlessly and he has enforced it, not because of any desire on his part to injure business or business interests, but because of the fact that it was and is law. Laws are made to be obeyed. He has made the anti-trust law mean something.

He has secured much-needed amendments to the interstate commerce act, has brought about a closer governmental regulation of the great transportation lines of the country and has prevented increased freight rates.

He has been steadfast in his advocacy of the federal incorporation of business doing an interstate business. He secured the passage of a corporation excise tax law. He has secured the submission to the different states of a constitutional amendment authorizing a national income tax law.

He has shown a deep, sincere and abiding interest in the human welfare of the people of the nation. He has promoted the cause of world-wide peace by the negotiation of peace treaties with foreign powers. A commission appointed by him has made a report on the subject of employers' liability and workmen's compensation.

He has urged the appointment of a national commission to take up the subject of the relations between capital and labor, designed to bring about a betterment of these relations. He has secured the passage of a safety appliance law for railroads, an employers' liability law to compensate the employee for injuries.

He has amicably secured the conservation of our great natural resources. He has caused to be established postal savings banks.

His administration has been conducted on a business basis. A big deficit in the postoffice department has been wiped out and the department placed on a self-sustaining basis. A commerce court and a court of customs appeals have been established. Millions have been expended in the construction of the Panama canal and not a breath of scandal about the expenditure of all this wealth has been heard.

Finally, he has put himself on record as opposed to the doctrine of the recall of judges (and judicial decisions) by his veto of the Arizona statehood bill.

President Taft's administration always has been safe, conservative, progressive; he has worked for the best interests of all the people. He has faithfully carried out every pledge in the platform on which he was nominated and elected.

Is not this the kind of man you wish to see occupying the most exalted position in the United States?

TAFT IS HUMANITARIAN
Cause of Workingman Dear to Heart of President.

The cause of the workingman has always been dear to the heart of William Howard Taft, the humanitarian. He has secured during his term of office the passage of a safety appliance law for railroads, an employers' liability law to compensate the employee for injuries sustained while at work and a boiler inspection law for railroads. In a message sent to congress on February 21, 1912, President Taft said:

"What is urgently needed to-day is a re-examination of our laws bearing on the relations of employer and employee and a careful and discriminating scrutiny of the various plans which are being tried in several of our own states and in other countries. This would seem to be the first step in bringing about an adjustment of these relations better suited to the new conditions of industry."

WHAT IS DIRECT VOTE?
Illinois Expresses Presidential Preference in Election of Precinct Committees.

There is a great deal of bunccombe being printed about the people having anything to say about candidates in Illinois. Now for the facts in the case: Every precinct committee—over 5,000 in the state—will be elected by a direct vote of the people on April 9, primary day. The people know these candidates for precinct committees and know whom they can trust. These committees in the different counties make up the county conventions, and represent the people. They choose delegates to state, congressional and senatorial conventions and these conventions, in turn, carry out the will of the people.

national tradition that no man should hold the office of president beyond two terms, or longer than George Washington held it. This objection has been so deep-rooted and widespread that if there were no other cause of opposition, it was of sufficient weight to compel the most sanguine Republican to doubt the ability of the party to elect General Grant. The attempt to enforce the nomination and to brave and defy the popular sentiment has been intensified by the strength of the opposition."—Chicago Tribune editorial, June 3, 1880.

"A vote for a third term is a vote against the best interests of the Republican party."—Chicago Tribune editorial, May 6, 1880.

"The Tribune this morning publishes dispatches from the centers of population in nearly every state in the Union as to the feelings of Republicans on the third term idea. From every quarter the statements come that the nomination of Grant would be disastrous to the Republican party."—Chicago Tribune editorial, May 28, 1880.

WHAT ROOSEVELT SAID

His Utterances on Third Term Proposition Recalled.

Question Is: How Does Former President Square Himself in Present Attitude.

On November 8, 1904, immediately following the election of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency of the United States, he came out with this unequivocal and flat-footed statement:

"On March 4 next, I shall have served three and one-half years, and this three and one-half years constitute my FIRST TERM."

"The wise custom, which limits the president to two terms, regards the substance and not the form, and UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Nor was that the only time at which Theodore Roosevelt repeated that emphatic statement. On December 11, 1907, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I have not changed and shall not change that decision (relative to a third term) thus announced."

In June, 1911, less than one year ago, Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Editor Moore of Pittsburgh saying that his nomination for the presidency would be "a calamity."

On June 27, 1911, Mr. Roosevelt wrote a long letter to E. A. Van Valkenberg, editor of the Philadelphia North American Review, saying among other things:

"I have expressed myself perfectly freely to a number of men in this matter always to the same effect—that I would not be a candidate in 1912 myself and that I had no intention of taking any part in the nomination for or against any candidate."

How does Mr. Roosevelt square these written and spoken words with his declaration of a few weeks ago when he said:

"I will accept the nomination for president if it is tendered to me, and I will adhere to this decision until the convention has expressed its preference."

George Washington refused to accept a third term even though it was pressed upon him.

Thomas Jefferson patriotically took the same stand.

General Grant aspired to a third term in the presidential chair and the nomination was refused him by the Republican party.

The suggestion for a possible third term was made to William McKinley. What did he say? Read:

"I regret that the suggestion for a third term has been made. I will say now, once for all, expressing a long-settled conviction, that I am not, but will not be a candidate for a third term, but would not accept the nomination if it were tendered me."

The question of a third term for President is a vital one in the present campaign. Washington, Jefferson, McKinley—all of these—put themselves on record as opposed to third termism.

Is Mr. Roosevelt greater than these? He says he meant "a third consecutive term" when he wrote his letters and when he made his speeches.

Does the word "consecutive" appear in any of them?

Maybe Colonel Roosevelt "had his fingers crossed" when he made his statement.

Reo the Fifth

"One of the most fruitful sources of buyers of Reo the Fifth is the enthusiastic owner of this creation of R. E. Olds which he has well termed his topmost achievement in his twenty-five years' experience in building automobiles," says J. W. Skinner.

As a specimen of the thousands of similar letters which the company is constantly receiving I might cite that of Prof. E. H. Morse, the well known educator and business expert of Hartford, Conn., which came to hand yesterday. His letter in part reads as follows:

"Before I selected a car I, perhaps, went into a more exhaustive search and series of tests than do most men. I visited the New York, Boston and Hartford shows, and personally tried out what I considered the seven best makes ranging in price from One to Two Thousand Dollars. I put these all against the steep hill on Cedar Mountain, leading from the New Britain road to the New Haven turnpike. The Reo made it on second speed, and made it easily. No other car which I tried could do it on second; several could go over on the low speed, and a few could not make the hill at all."

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

Something more than an ordinary tonic is required to restore health to a weakened, run-down system; the medicine must possess blood-purifying properties as well, because the weakness and impurity of the circulation is responsible for the poor physical condition. The blood does not contain the necessary quantity of rich, red corpuscles, and is therefore a weak, watery stream which cannot afford sufficient nourishment to sustain the system in ordinary health. A poorly nourished body cannot resist disease, and this explains why so many persons are attacked by a spell of sickness when the use of a good tonic would have prevented the trouble. In S. S. S. will be found both blood-cleansing and tonic qualities combined. It builds up weak constitutions by removing all impurities and germs from the blood, thus supplying a certain means for restoring strength and invigorating the system. The healthful, vegetable ingredients of which S. S. S. is composed make it splendidly fitted to the needs of those systems which are delicate from any cause. It is Nature's Perfect Tonic, free from all harmful minerals, a safe and pleasant acting medicine for persons of every age. S. S. S. ridges the body of that tired, worn-out feeling so common at this season, improves the appetite and digestion, tones up the stomach, acts with pleasing effects on the nervous system, and reinvigorates every portion of the body.

TO BREAK UP COLD.
Some Advice That Will Save Time and Money.
Strong drink and quinine may relieve a cold, but it usually does more harm than good.
To break up a hard cold in either head or chest thousands are using this sensible treatment.
First of all look after your bowels; if they need attention use any reliable cathartic. Then pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with a towel and breathe for 5 or 10 minutes the pleasant, soothing, healing vapor.
Do this just before going to bed; your head will feel fine and clear and you'll awake from a refreshing sleep, thus a cold in the morning.
For colds, coughs, catarrh, asthma and croup HYOMEL is guaranteed. A fifty cent bottle is all you need to break up a cold and this can be obtained at Coover & Shreve's and druggists everywhere.

WHY TRAVEL FOR THIS?

Many people travel to far distant points for a "change of climate" to build up their strength. Now what does this change of climate do for them? Usually if it does any good at all, its effect is to make them eat more.

But if you need more strength and can't afford the time and expense of travel you need not be discouraged.

A. M. Sturz of Bronx Borough, N. Y., suffered from weak, tender lungs and almost continual headaches for over two months. In a letter she says: "Since I have been taking Vinol the symptoms of lung trouble have disappeared and I have no more headaches. Vinol has built me up and made me feel even much better than I did before this trouble came on."

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, without oil, builds you up by making you eat more and digest better. It enriches the blood with tonic iron at the same time. Try Vinol. If it does not benefit you we will give back your money. Lee P. Allcott.

MRS. R. OF NEW YORK SAYS: "After a serious fever hair specialists told me nothing could save my hair. Mrs. Mason proved the contrary and restored my hair to its former health and beauty." Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream now sold by Lee P. Allcott. 25c a tube.

POULTRY NOTES.

March 23, 1912.
Editor Poultry Dept., Jacksonville Journal:

I noticed in the columns of your department some time back in inquiry as to hard boiled eggs being good for chicks. I have been a raiser of poultry for thirty years and now and then have tried the eggs mixed with other foods and invariably the chicks will begin to droop.

Now the question of what we shall feed our chicks is a vital point and it is here to be settled right away, for the chicks coming off now will be worth twice what a May chicken will be, and to have a perfect feed would save lots of the profits.

My plan for feeding chickens is to always have them before them from the time they are taken from the hen. I also feed chick feed, dry bread crumbs, dried in oven and run through the meat cutter, plenty of cut green food, such as mustard, radish tops and grass. For drink, I give them nothing but ginger and water for the first three weeks.

In the report of the banquet of the Poultry association there is a suggestion as to a poultry plant at Nichols park. I wonder would it benefit our really pretty park, or if the cost to keep one in perfectly sanitary condition as it would be necessary at the park, would be profitable.

Keeping the Chicks Healthy. Modern poultry: To hatch a fine lot of chicks and then have them droop and die one after another until the flock has dwindled to a mere handful is very discouraging, but quite often it is the experience of the beginner, and sometimes of older hands as well. Even in the best regulated flocks disease may sometimes appear in spite of all precautions, and it then becomes necessary to adopt vigorous measures to keep it from spreading and affecting the entire flock. However, our main reliance for keeping the chickens healthy must continue to be in preventive measures. It is much easier to keep disease out of a flock by proper feeding, housing and sanitary, than it is to eradicate it once it gains a foothold. Most beginners know this, but either through carelessness or lack of experience they neglect important details, often with disastrous results.

Of utmost importance yet often neglected, is cleanliness. After all that has been said and written on the subject it would seem unnecessary to add anything, but the poultry and farm press will have to keep hammering away for a good many years before the necessity for it is lost. The wife of a farmer friend was recently looking over our place and at one of the poultry houses she stopped in surprise: "Why, how clean you keep it. It looks as if you had swept it," she said. I plead guilty to the charge. The house is one having a scratching shed attached so no litter is used on the floor and I sweep it once a week. Some will say that is too much trouble but I find it pays.

Cleanliness should be the watchword from incubator to laying hen. Not half way cleanliness, removing the droppings occasionally and having a general clean-up once or twice a year. The general clean-up is all right for more or less material will accumulate about yards and houses during the winter. But houses and coops must be kept sweet and clean all the time in order to keep the chickens in the best health. This is particularly applicable to chicks in the brooders. The digestive organs are easily deranged, hence it is important that the brooder floor be kept free from filth. Clean the brooders daily.

Our plan is to keep the floor covered with sand, then every morning the hover is lifted out and droppings raked off the brooder floor. Once a week all of the sand is removed and a fresh layer spread on the floor. The troughs and pans used in feeding and feeding to chicks often become a source of trouble. As the weather becomes warm feed left in troughs quickly sours and if then eaten will cause bowel trouble. We have troubles enough without this, so we use no moist feed. A dry mash in one hopper and chick size grain in another, with a supply of grit, shell and charcoal, solve the feeding problem for us.

As the chicks pass the hover stage and are moved along to brood coops and colony houses the same care in guarding them from disease should be exercised as when they are younger. Clean the feed troughs frequently. Keep the drinking water clean and fresh. Give the youngsters ample range. They will grow faster and will be much harder than if confined. And don't be afraid to let them out early in the morning on warm, clear days. After they are a week old running about in the grass wet with dew won't hurt them. We have had healthy young chicks that were out in the grass almost every morning in April before 7 o'clock. When it rains they are kept in the house where a deep litter of short straw provides exercise for them.

There should be little trouble from lice on brooder chicks but sometimes they are introduced by sparrows or other means, and it is well to keep a sharp lookout for them. Nothing will sap the vitality of young chickens as quickly as lice and mites and once they get a start it is hard work to rid the building of them. We examine the youngsters frequently and if lice are found insect powder is used freely and the chickens' head and throat are greased with a mixture of kerosene and lard. This is seldom necessary, however.

Some Egg Stories. T. B. Gaines of Menard county had 156 hens which laid 101½ dozen eggs in February, average, 7.75 per hen.

George W. Boyd of the same county claims 903 eggs from 64 pullets, average, 14.10 per hen.

Mrs. A. Robinson of Springfield claims 372 from 42 hens, average, 8.85.

George Moore of Modesto, claims 624 from 53 White Wyandottes, average, 11.77.

F. J. Moore of 100 West Pine street, Springfield, has eighteen pullets, hatched in May and June, which laid 801 eggs in December, January and February; 156 in December, 287 in January and 358 in February.

One pen consisting of four White Orpingtons laid 273 eggs, 75.74, 64, and 60 eggs respectively in the three months, have never wanted to set and are still laying.

One pen consists of seven White Rocks which laid 220 eggs. The other pen of six mixed composed of Leghorns and Rocks, which laid 308. Now who can beat this record?
